

The 5th City Basic EP Course

13th to 14th June 2007

Department of Cardiac Electrophysiology at Barts and the London Heart Centre

Venue: Queen Mary University, Mile End, London

The Basic EP course is a two-day course providing comprehensive 'hands-on' training in all aspects of cardiac electrophysiology, with a focus on practical sessions.

Registration is limited allowing a high ratio of tutors to delegates.

The following topics will be covered:

- Basic mechanisms
- Recording and interpreting signals
- Clinical presentation
- Set up/use of advanced mapping
- Connecting an EP system
- The intracardiac electrogram
- Cooled RF
- Using a stimulator
